New additions to Mishawaka High School made the 1983-84 school year a memorable one. In and out of the building, workmen built new facilities which included a common's area, a new band room, computor labs, and many other classrooms. Teachers were also busy planning out the schedule of classroom projects and school events. As the summer came to an end, the construction also ceased. But the return of the freshmen to our school was another feature. Fall brought the opening of the school doors. The students were anxious to see what construction had actually occurred. Freshmen through seniors had to learn and accustom themselves with the new floor plan. Work supplies were brought and school was underway. Sport activities, clubs, dances, and other social affairs cemented the many individuals into a solid student body. The year was indeed concrete and memorable.

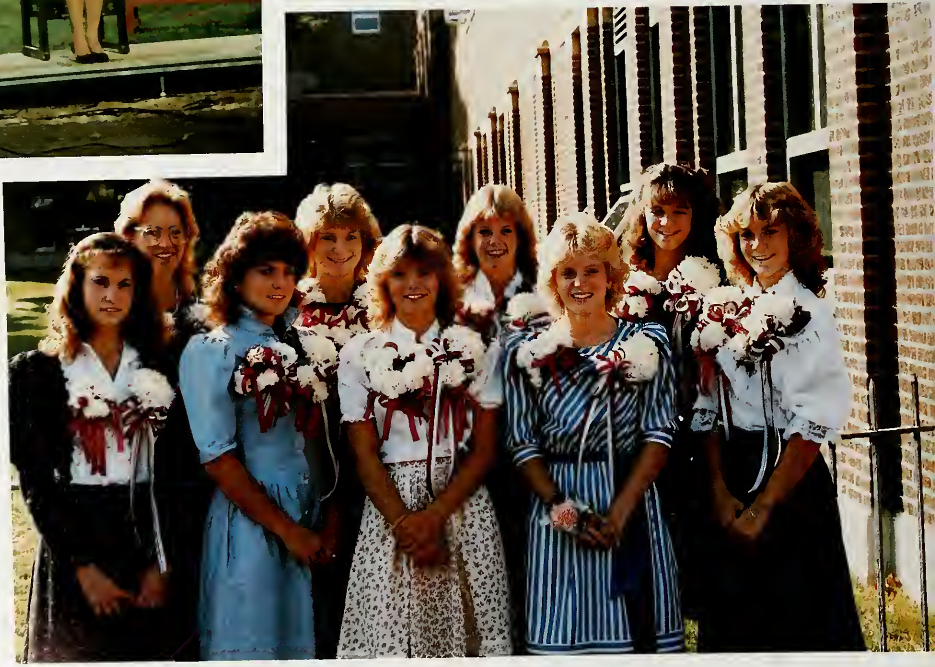
Victory Adds Final Touch To Homecoming

A pep session started off the excitement of the Homecoming day. Highlighting this Homecoming 1983 was the victory over Warsaw 48-12.

The half-time festivities included several songs, Feelings, Alma Rada, and Love Story, played by the band and sung by the MHS choir. Highlighting the night's event was the crowning of senior, Diane Baetsle, as Homecoming Queen; having the honor of crowning the queen was vice-president of student council, Bob Strong. After the game students headed towards the gym for a dance that ended the memorable night for the many students.



Diane Baetsle reigns queen over Homecoming 1983.

Halftime festivities include several songs sung by the MHS choir.

Members of the 1983 Homecoming Court are Sue Languell, Gwen Niedbalski, Diane Scheibelhut, Denise Kyle, Michelle Menucci, Diane Baetsle, Betsy Carpenter, Tammy Williams, and Beth Johnson.

The theme "Through the Years" proceeded throughout the night of the prom constructed by the 1983 junior senior prom committee. As 7:00 approached, couples started gathering at the Century Center for the opening festivities of the 1983 Prom. When entering the hall, that was decorated in light blue and yellow flowers, they noticed the entertainment for this evening would be brought by "Britches", a band well known by MHS students. As slow dances enhanced the mood of the evening, so did long walks by the river. The progression of the evening brought excitement to Barb LaCluyse as she was named 1983 Prom Queen. Even though midnight brought an end to the dance, many couples didn't end it there, but rather continued it at the beach and various other sites.

Misty Dodson gives a little recognition to her mother as she walks toward the platform.

This past year's graduation of 332 students again signaled advancement into the working world, independence, and entrance into the adult world with the realization that it was time to take on more responsibilities.

Four students achieved the title of Valedictorian — all girls. They were Anita Gerig, Carla Chamberlin, Jeanne Schramm and Katherine Ruppe.

Dr. Tom Burton was the guest speaker and Mr. Klaer handed out diplomas.

Congratulations, graduates!

ACTIVITIES

Student Government

This year's Student Council accomplished many things for MHS. There were fifty members who met on the second Thursday of each month.

The anticipated students met to discuss activities for upcoming events. They raised money by having dances; with this year's new freshmen at MHS, the success from the dances were remarkable.

The student council sold TB Christmas Seals, organized both "A" and "B" campaign assemblies, sponsored and contributed to intermural programs for sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

The Council helped the senior class in all activities of 50's week. It hosted Senior Citizen's Day and participated in the Senior Citizen's Exchange Program at 500 L.W.E.

The Student Council was involved with powderpuff football and all activities that went with it. The Council was also involved with Foreign Student Weekend.

Student Council members discuss ideas amoung themselves.

There were forty visitors from around the area. They attended classes, a dance, dinner, and various other activities. Only Valparaiso and Mishawaka participated in this important event.

They were also involved in the Foster Parent Program. Children in Ecudor, Greece, and the Philippines have received over $3000.00 in aid from our Student Council.

Student council participated in homecoming activities that include the selection of the Queen and her court, Senior float and dance. The Student Council encouraged different clubs and organizations to sponsor their own dances.

We are proud of our MHS Student Council and encourage it to continue its work as hard as it has in the past.

Students Earn Recognition

National Honor Society and Music Honor Society are two admired organizations at MHS.

National Honor Society began in April 1929. It was for students who were at scholarship level. Those who have a given grade level are also considered. To be chosen one must excell in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. After reviewing these qualities, the faculty then voted on who should be chosen.

Music Honor Society was formed for music talented students. It involves students who are outstanding in orchestra, band, and choir.

Those who wished to join Music Honor Society were to audition in the spring. Results were then posted. Students who wish to be chosen must have a "C" average in academic subjects, and a "B" average in music.

"The important point of being accepted as a member of Music Honor Society is the recognition given to the students for excellence in individual performances."

Time On Stage Pays Off For Thespians

To be a Thespian one must earn points by working on plays in one or more of these capacities: acting, lighting, make-up, or stage crew. You must accumulate a total of ten points. Each point represents ten hours of stage work.

Thespians meet twelve times throughout the year. They try to meet at least once a month. During the meetings they discused upcoming events and the future plays.

Being a Thespian is something someone should be very proud of. It means you are keeping a tradition that has been alive for over 2,000 years. Thespians were named after the first actor in Greece-Thespis.

Sponsor Mr. McSorley said, "Thespians is the only club that requires so much effort to join. To be a Thespian is an honor. It's also a strive for excellence."

Thespian Vice-President Kevin Buckley commented, "It was a lot of work but I enjoyed it. It makes me feel good because it's a goal I wanted to achieve."

Quill and Scroll was an International Honorary Society designed for journalists. It was organized in 1926 by advisors for high school student journalists to reward these people for their hard work. The members pledged themselves to excellence in a special ceremony held at the end of the year. Each new member lit candles symbolizing truth, initiative, opportunity, and friendship.

Three juniors and five seniors were chosen during the 1982-83 school year. Among those chosen included Robbin Burkett, Candie Emmons, and Michele Wagner. These students exhibited great skill and knowledge in journalism and were in the upper third of their class.

Ending the ceremony, each student went forward, signed their names, and made pledges. Quill and Scroll pins were granted.

Publications Meet Deadlines

With all the additions that were made to MHS this past year, the appropriate theme for the Miskodeed was "Under Construction." It became the largest book in the area.

The staff was comprised of one adviser and many students who took pictures, developed them in the darkroom, and arranged them on pages according to basic layout techniques. The ad staff was responsible for bringing in thousands of dollars in ad sales. Speakers were called in to demonstrate selling techniques of successful businesses to help them with this task. Members of the staff were also faced with the horrendous job of alphabetizing and indexing 1600 students and staff.

Robbin Burkett and Candie Emmons attended St. Mary's Institute over the summer where they learned how to incorporate the theme of their book into layouts. They worked with Jim Beckham, yearbook salesman, and Terry Nelson, advisor, over the summer to finalize their layout plans.

The staff was hard working and devoted. Many Saturdays and holiday vacations were given up to trudge back to school in good weather and bad to do Miskodeed work. Many members stopped answering their phones on Saturday mornings fearing it would be Miss Nelson summoning them back to work.

Editor-in-Chief Christl Donnelly along with assistant editors Kurran Heston and John Kronewitter edited the sixty-sixth volume of The Alltold. Business manager Tracy Thomas sold ads for each issue.

The fifteen issues of The Alltold, distributed bi-weekly, consisted of four pages except for eight page issues distributed at Christmas and Graduation.

Christl Donnelly and Kurran Heston attended the Michiana High School Newspaper Workshop sponsored by the South Bend Tribune Community Relations Department. They spent November 3 at Notre Dame learning more about headline writing, layout, and reporting.

"The staff consisted of many underclassmen. The lack of experience made us work even harder to produce the best Alltold ever," commented the editor-in-chief.

Debaters Formulate Arguments

This past year the MHS Debate Team competed in the St. Joseph Forensic League which included the following schools: Adams, Riley, LaSalle, St. Joseph, Marian, Howe Military, LaPorte, and Highland. The team also competed all over Northern Indiana.

The goals for the Debate Team were to foster talents in speaking, thinking, researching, and formulating arguments. As reaching for these goals, the debaters met once a week after school. At their meetings they prepared themselves for upcoming debates outside of school. They also organized their material and practiced discussion and debate.

A prerequisite for joining Debate was a love of speaking and a desire to learn how to get your arguments down on paper. Debate Coach Mrs. Ernst felt that "Debate was unlike other extracurricular activities because it involved a different kind of challenge and was exciting to participate in." ......

This year's Art Club had an average of eleven people at each meeting. The club met at least once a month to plan and discuss upcoming art activities. The club was sponsored by Mr. Kitkowski.

During the meeting the club went to an art display where they saw various works of art including paintings, sculptures, three dimensional, jewelry, and many other items.

The Christmas spirit was very evident when the members painted the windows at McDonalds. The group was entered in a contest throughout the Mishawaka area for painting the windows.

The group did not have membership dues this year. All activities were sponsored by Mr. Kitkowski and the students.

Mr. Kitkowski stated that "Anyone who is interestd in art can be involved in the art club."

Minds Filled With Imagination

Language Clubs Organize Activities

The Languge Clubs were busy learning the cultures and traditions by studying the dialect and history of their language.

German Club had a Halloween and Christmas party. The students were able to raise the money by having a candy sale. The club had been active before and after the arrival of Mrs. Gregg, the sponsor.

The Spanish-Latin Club had a dinner party at the president's, Lina Portolesi, house. Miss. Johnston usually had the club meet on the third Thursday of each month. During one of these meetings the members made a pinata. The people who join the club have taken or were taking a Spanish or Latin class.

French Club acquired many new members from the freshmen class. They had a picnic in which everyone brought in a dollar and a dish they made. The sponsor for French Club is Mr. Badry.

Indoor And Outdoor Seasons Successful

The MHS Soccer Club began in 1981. Pat Mc Coy, Bob Hunt, Jon Daggy, and John Windomaker have been on the team since that time.

The soccer club had two coaches this past year, Bethel College players Stege Craeford and Danny Keeple, who were assisted by Leo Daggy, and their faculty sponsor Mr. Rietveld.

This past year they finished with a 7-3 record for the outdoor season. The indoor season proved to be very successful with a third place and a winning season. The club was open to anyone interested in playing soccer.

The MHS Soccer Club has had many sponsors over the years. One of the sponsors bought the outdoor uniforms, and another bought the indoor uniforms. The team is totally sponsored by the players, coaches, and outside organizations.

ROSSIGNOL
ROSSIGNOL

What a great year for skiing! With the great abundance of snow the ski club enjoyed a fun-filled year on the slopes, of Swiss Valley.

All the members had to do was to get a way to Swiss Valley in Jones, Michigan, and they were a part of the ski club. They also had to pay for admission and equipment. Lessons were included in the price of the lift and ticket rental. Beginners were welcome.

Meetings were held at the convenience of the members at Swiss Valley. Most of them made time to ski because of the fun and excitement it included. With the enormous amount of snow this year, the ski club was able to use the slopes a lot more. Meetings were more frequent and more exciting. With all the practice came great ability. This made each trip a new adventure in improvement and perfection of certain techniques.

Students Learn Business Fundamentals

Distributive Education Clubs of America, and Office Education Association, or DECA and OEA were clubs that seniors could join to help them learn and deal with day to day business problems. This past year DECA and OEA had participated in various fund raisers, and they performed community services. For example, they took the patients at the Northern Indiana Children's Hospital trick-or-treating the day before Halloween. They also sponsored the Holiday House food drive. The students decided what activities they wanted to do through the school year. They got the school's approval for the fund raisers and then planned, and organized the activities.

DECA and OEA on the other hand, sponsored such fund raising activities as the Cavemen cap sale, the home carnation sale. They also had sponsored a fashion show in which the members of DECA and OEA participated in the production of the show.

Terry Turner smiles and poses for the camera at a math club meeting.

The main idea of the Math Club was to promote a greater interest in mathematics and to have fun doing it. The challenge of the club helped prepare many students for their future challenges and problems which they would encounter. The sponsor of the Math Club was Mr. Schroer and the officers were President — Lina Portolesi, Secretary — Angela Duvall, and Treasurer — Julia Whitt. Activities included math contests, help sessions in PSAT and SAT, plus a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry. To help raise money for such activities, the club sold t-shirts to the student body. A rewarding aspect of the club was if a student needed help with math, he could receive such help from his peers and maybe have a better understanding of the concept.

Challenging Problems For Math Club

Many Play Roles On Stage

The work that goes into a play consists of casting roles, making costumes, preparing sets, applying make-up, and learning lines.

The first play, "Hansel and Gretel," was primarily for younger audiences.

Grovers Corners, New Hampshire provided the setting for the play, "Our Town". Play members transformed themselves from high school students to small town citizens.

Being involved in plays at MHS has always been a favorite activity of many students.

The play was considered very unique because of its props. One very economical reason was the stage manager and narrator in one. The use of ladders, chairs, and tables also added to its quality.

Mr. McSorley felt, "To act your part in a play requires total concentration on the character you are attempting to portray. Also a person must have proper volume and enmunciate properly."

"Lil' Abner" Debutes In Spring

"Good overcomes evil" was the theme for the past year's spring musical. The musical "Lil' Abner" made its debute on March 15, 16, and 17. Including performers, musicians, and backstage people there were approximately fifty or sixty students involved in the production. Rehearsals for the musical were held every night except Friday in the auditorium. Some of the leading performers were Aaron Bobson (Lil' Abner), Lisa Rairdon (Daisy Mae), and Brant Beckett (Marrying Sam). Mr. McSorley, the drama coach, stated, "The purpose for the play was to give all the potential actors at M.H.S. a chance to show off their talents." He added, "It also allows those students who like to work behind the scene (lighting, make up, stage sets, and publicity) a chance to show off their talents too."

The Madrigal Society had sixteen members this past year. The members were chosen by audition. The performances included one formal concert, one to the public, shows for the local organizations, Madrigal dinners for Beiger Heritage, several elementary school appearances, and shows for the different churches. The costume worn was sixteenth century Gothic. Rehearsals for Madrigals were held at Mr. Long's house every Sunday evening.

Their fund raiser was shared with the vocal department as a whole, which sold candy bars. The candy bars were sold out in less than two weeks. The profit went towards the Madrigals many different activities.

Students Form New Ecology Club

Waltonians, the ecology club of MHS, had several goals to pursue. The goals they tried to achieve were to make themselves aware of the environment around them and to give them experience in wildlife and forestry management.

The club had several activities throughout the year. They planted trees, did recycling, fed animals, constructed bird houses and feeding stations and did various service projects.

The club was opened to anyone who wanted to join, especially those interested in ecology, conservation, or biology.

The clubs activities were sponsored by Mr. Manuszak and the students. The club met once each week.

"Waltonians gave you the chance to see nature. It also gave you a chance to work with the land around you," stated club member Jim Sheerwood.

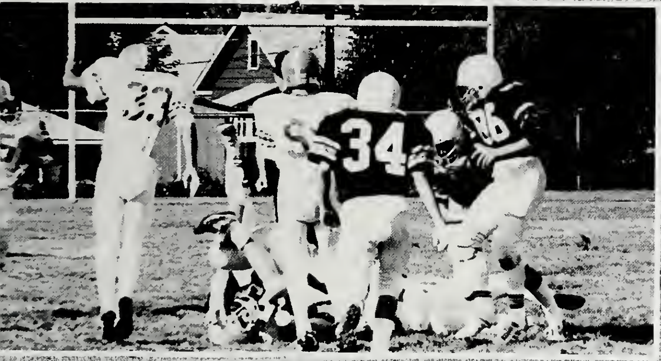
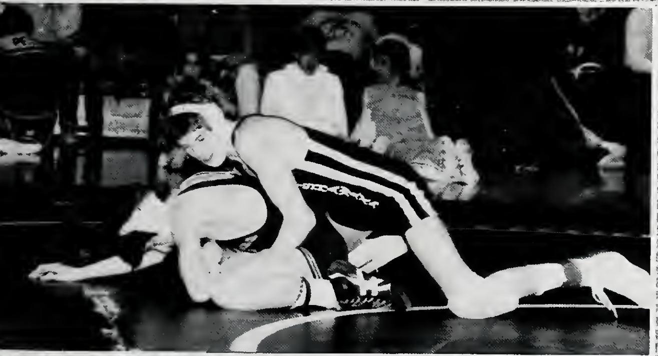
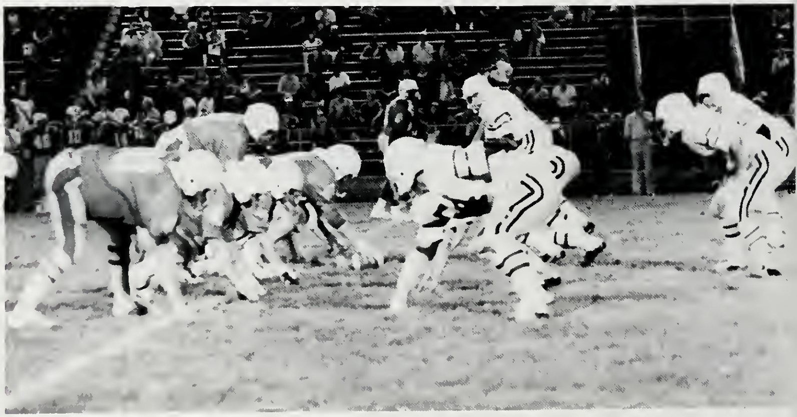
SPORTS





Caveman Football



The 1983 Mishawaka Varsity Football Team had an exciting season. Although some injuries set the team back from its intended goal of winning the conference. They still had a good season winning 75% of the games played.

Practices were held three times a day before school started and from 3:30 to 6:00 during school. Although practices were hard, over sixty players finished the season.

This year's captains were Kevin Maggioli and Tom Walenga. Maggoli also won the Most Valuable Player Award and The Helmet Award. Other awards were: Most Improved Players; Tim Crowell and Jeff Chapla; Most Valuable Offensive Lineman; John Bordner; Most Valuable Defensive Lineman; Brad Flora and the Mental Attitude Award went to Bob McIntire.

Defeating Penn with no time on the clock to spare, an undefeated season was the greatest hi-light of the 1983 junior varsity football season. Each player worked long and hard for the common goal of not losing a single game in their season. With this dedication and hours of practicing, the goal was accomplished.

The junior varsity practiced on Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning. These practices were often held before varsity practices and many players had two practices on these days. On days they did not practice as a unit the junior varsity worked as a preparation team to help the varsity get ready for the up coming games. The jr. varsity was coached by C. Salyer and S. Wisemen.

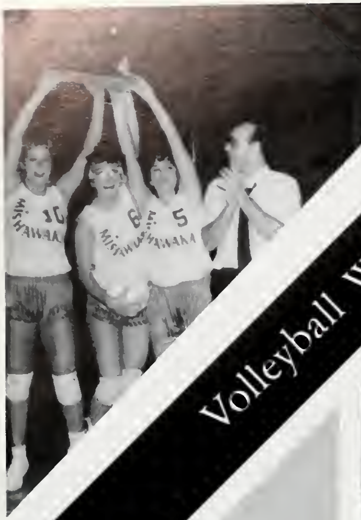
Volleyball Wins



The most common goal chosen by the volleyball team was to win the NIC for the fourth consecutive year, and of course to be number one in the state. After many long and hot practices, the team succeeded at these goals with the overall record of 30-3 and the NIC 9-0. Coach Anderson commented that the girl's got along so well because of "the common-goal-to-win" He was also asked, "What does it take to be a good player?" His answer was athletic ability, agility, quickness, coordination, combined with lots of hard work and dedication. Stephanie Gale, Gwen Niedbalski, and Sharon Versyp were the three captains of the 1983 team. Anderson said, "We had a goal to reach, that we didn't do in '81. The challenge was greater, the odds were against us, with Muncie Burris as the nation's number two rated high school. Out of twelve years of the IHSAA volleyball playoffs, this year was the largest crowd and the most exciting playoff games, according to the IHSAA." "The best feeling a coach can ever have is achieving what ever other coach in the state wants. Being #1 means attainging a goal that was reached by hard work and dedication. I love it!"

Some of the outstanding swimmers who contributed in the "83" season were Senior — Kristie Bundrant, who was awarded the Mental Attitude award and chosen Captain for the year's season, Freshman — Mary Ruppe, who was awarded Most Valuable and swam for five record-breakers, and Laurie Hayes, who was chosen Most Improved.

The team consisted of eleven freshmen, three sophomores, three juniors, and one senior. The returning letterwomen from the previous year were Tina Donathon, Amy Anderson, and Kristi Bundrant.

The team was gathered together for their first practice on August 8th, practicing 3:30 to 5:30 at the Mishawaka Y.M.C.A.

"The team didn't really have any goals as a group, they worked most on individual events." explains Coach Hemmerlien.

The extremely young wrestling team wasn't expected to do well this season by area coaches including our own coach, but the grapplers proved them all wrong by finishing an awesome 11-2. The Cavemen were Tri-Champions of the Northern Indiana Conference by virtue of a very strange series of upsets. In addition to being the N.I.C. Champs the Cavemen were also the Hobart Invitational Champions. Only four seniors wrestled; These four were Jeff Koontz, and Bob Strong, who advanced to State, along with Chris Weinkauf and Shawn Daugherty.

The Junior Varsity also had an excellent year going 12-1 in dual meets this season with their only loss coming at the hands of Penn. They gained revenge; however, by beating Penn for first Place in the Goshen and LaPorte J.V. Invitationals. They were also Champs of the M.H.S. Junior Varsity Triple Duals.

The 1983 Boy's Track team coached by Steve Jones and assistant coaches Craig Salyers and George Marzotto lacked seniors but performed very well. Each participant was given goals by their coaches to try to improve times, throws and sprints. These goals were set by comparing times from other seasons and setting goals better than that.

The Most Valuable Player was Tom Walenga and the Most Improved Player was Todd Vest.

The Freshmen Track team went undefeated in their 1983 season. They won the St. Joseph Valley League Championship.

Coach Marzotto commented that you didn't have to be the best to participate in track, you just needed determination and a willingness to put forth effort.

"It was a satisfying season. Due to injuries, we did not do as well as we hoped, but most of the team will be back. I am looking forward to working with these boys again," concluded Coach Jones.

Racqueters Face Opponents

To be a good tennis player a person must have coordination, a will to win, anticipation, proper techniques, and good movements. Above all a person must practice, be coachable and develop a serve.

When participating in tennis, or any other sport, one must avoid fried foods, and junk foods; seek proteins, carbohydrates, milk, fruits, vegetables, and salads; and rest properly.

The girls' tennis team practiced after school from an hour and a half to two hours usually at Battel Park. Their goals were to compete well, be fair, and show enthusiasm and pride.

The most valuable player was Carolyn Freeland; Natalie Ganswer was the most improved player.

Mr. Barclay commented, "Next year's record will be improved. We had twenty girls who worked hard; many if not all will be back. The team will move well up in the conference standings. I enjoyed the season. The girls represented Mishawaka Spirit."

Putters Aim In Right

Mr. Lewis, the 1982 golf coach, believed it was a must for a person to have good hand — eye coordination in order to be a good golfer. Also, he said dedication, a positive mental attitude, and mental toughness were important.

Last spring there were twenty players on the team. The season record was 2-18. They came in eighth out of ten teams in the conference. John Giannuzzi and Tony Reimer were named the captains. The Most Valuable Player was John Giannuzzi and the Most Improved Player was Kevin Collins. The Mental Attitude Award was received by John Giannuzzi and Tony Reimer was given the Medalist for the team's lowest average.

Mr. Lewis' goals this past year were to increase the number of participants and to show improvement as a team and as individuals.

This golfer knows that good hand-eye coordination is a necessity for a good golfer.

This golfer seems to have just the right positive mental attitude and mental toughness to make his putt a success.

Immense concentration is important for this golfer if he wants to score for his team.

Enthusiasm Lasts

Enthusiasm, spirit, leadership, and a large amount of practice is what it takes to be a good cheerleader. For the past year the responsibility of the MHS cheerleaders has been to make signs for all sports, to promote school spirit, each to cheer for their teams. The girls also did community work, they helped at the 10K run, and other such projects.

During the summer the girls did a lot. They attended a camp for cheerleaders and competed at the Elkhart Fair where the freshmen won a trophy and the Junior Varsity won third place. There were new uniforms made for the girls by their sponser Mrs. Salyer.

There were a total of eighteen girls on the squads. Varsity consisted of Michele Siney, Kris Balbo, Sue Strong, Sharon Decrane, Christine Ortiz, and Karen Westphal, Junior Varsity members were Sally Causley,' Shelly Sloan, Kim McCampbell, Monica Blasko, Michelle Menecci, and Cheryl Hollam, Freshmen members were Kathy Storng, Erica Strantz, Cindy Porter, Holly Waumans and Kelly Palmer and Lori Peli.

All three squads get together to form a mount.

MUSIC GROUPS HAVE NEW WING

If any of the academic courses felt the pinch of the new construction, the music department did. The orchestra and choir had many places that were used for storing equipment and rehearsing of songs until the new wing was built. "The new facility is wonderful," stated Mr. Palmiter. Lighting and temperature control were included with the big pluses. Among the many new changes that have been made, at least this department is back in one big piece.

Orchestra and choir performed a Fall Festival, a Winter Concert, and a Spring Festival in April. The orchestra officers included President — Julia Whitt, Vice President — Terry Turner, Secretary — Lina Portolesi, and Treasurer — Kevin Collins. Whereas, the officers of the choir were President — Kevin Buckle, Vice President — Sharron Adkinson, Secretary — Charlotte Goeller, and Treasurer — Karen Rifenburg.

Swing and A'Cappella Choir, Girls' Glee Club and orchestra were classes that met daily. Outside of these, Madrigals and Chambers Choir were extra activities that met after class time. All of these classes spent much time and patience to make MHS hum.

Home Planning For Future

Some academic family preparatory courses taken by students were home economics, child care, family living, clothing, foods, and housing. Most of these classes had certain requirements which had to be met during the course of the year. In housing, a study of home planning with emphasis on selection of the location, the type of house, and floor plan, was taught. Both clothing and foods had a variety of levels of skills for the more advanced students. Clothing concentrated on sewing for the home and family members. The more advanced food classes studied nutrition, food cookery, money and energy necessary to fulfill the food needs of the family. Child care and family living was offered only to juniors and seniors during the second semester. This course was designed to help guide the students to make current and future decisions concerned with their everyday lives. Stages of a child's development from conception through childhood were explored during child care this year. All in all, the basic over view of home economics centered around the family and home life.

Business Duties Taught

Students who wished to become secretaries or officer clerks found that business courses at MHS were very informative. In typing classes the students learned how to type proficiently and well enough to enter the world of work. The students also learned the appropriate attitudes enabling them to get along in today's business world. Shorthand classes introduced the students to the principles needed for the development of a strong foot-hold and an ease in reading and writing short-hand. "It is not a difficult job to automate accounting, but no machine can replace a good secretary", commented Mrs. Earnhart, a short-hand teacher.

Office machine teachers taught techniques for the correct usage of the various business machines, such as: calculators, and typewriters. In accounting students learned basic terms and how to keep financial records for small businesses.

Cooperative Office Education, or C.O.E., was a business class for senior boys and girls who were interested in preparing for a career in business. Students that took this class enjoyed it because they received on-job training in their desired field.

Preparing For Future Plans

Many students this past year had the option of choosing a specific career before graduating from high school. Through good attendance, taking on responsibility and showing reliability at MHS, many upperclassmen were able to attend the Elkhart Area Career Center. Students in the program attended the center in the morning and picked up afternoon courses to complete graduation requirements at MHS.

All of the center's learning services were available to help these students develop technical skills. The career center had in excess of five million dollars of facility and training equipment.

Courses offered included welding, cosmetology, horticulture, health occupations, food service, commercial art, interior design, decoration, clerical training and restaurant management.

By choosing the Elkhart Career Center this select group of students developed job skills as well as earned high school credits during the school year.

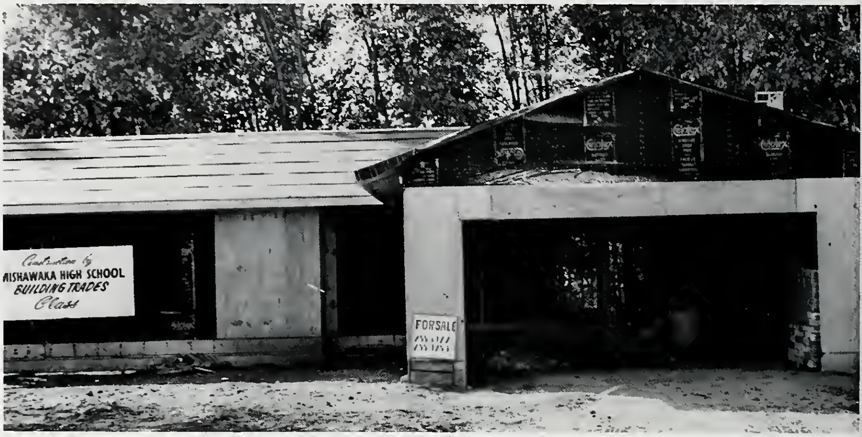
Skillful Hands And Tools

Are you interested in drafting, wood shop, graphic arts, or electric shop? If you are, you should take power mechanics. Mr. Voorde gave his students a basic introduction to these vocational classes.

Meanwhile, Mr. Portolese expressed the fact that there were as many careers for girls in drafting as well as for boys. In drafting classes students designed blueprints and made scale models of their ideas. One student's designs were used as the blueprints for the building trades' house.

In wood shop students learned about basic and advanced forms of wood crafting. Mr. Ross' beginning students were required to make various projects and then they went on to choose their own individual final project. Advanced students, however, worked independently making everything from tables to dressers.

Finally, just down the hall from woodshop was electric shop. Mr. Wiseman taught his classes how to handle and respect electricity. The students worked from textbooks and different machines. Mr. Wiseman hoped to have prepared his students to get a job in a world of buttons, meters, and gauges.

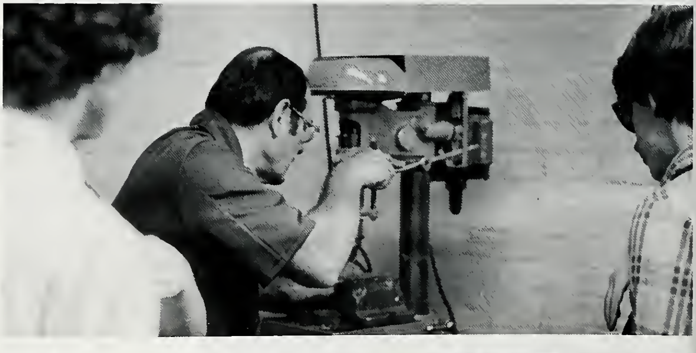


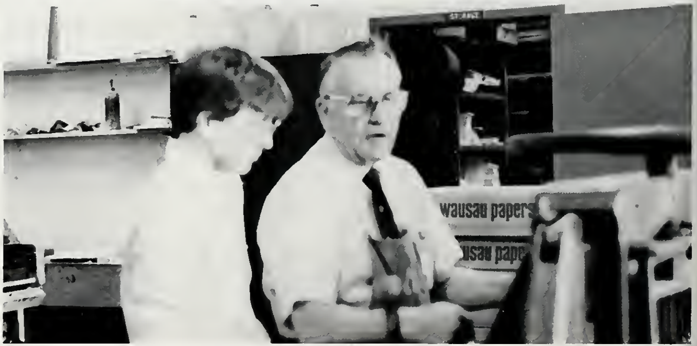
Blueprint Comes To Life

Need a house built? Look us up! This year's building trades house was built at 515 Brook Avenue. Sixteen students worked on the house. These students were exposed to all phases of residential construction. They did everything from overseeing the pouring of cement to the nailing of the shingles on the roof. "I hear many people in the community say they wish there was a class such as this when they went to school," commented Mr. Vannoni, the building trades instructor.

Now to drill on to machine shop. This past year Mr. Gerard, the machine shop instructor, received a new Hardinge Automatic Screw Machine. This machine illustrated mass production in the machine industry.

Last but not least were the graphic art classes. Mr. Armel's classes printed and typeset everything from student directories to report cards — a real hands-on experience. Students who took this course learned enough about graphic arts to enable them to go out and get a job in that field.





The 1983-84 building trades house nearly complete.

Understudy: Defensive Driving

This past year many of us saw funny little driver's education signs on different types of cars. Although this seemed humorous to some, the signs indicated that those in the car would be safer drivers in the future.

People between the ages of sixteen and twenty statistically have the highest accident rate. Therefore, defensive driving courses such as this offered at MHS were considered by many to be part of life's requirement. Students were encouraged to take driver's education because "his or her life may depend on it," said Mr. Jellicoe.

In addition to actually driving the car and learning defensive driving techniques, the students were faced with hours of book work to learn the rules of the road and driving laws. Nineteen-eighty-four Chevrolets were driven for one hour per week per student. As a rule a person must be fifteen years old in order to take driver's education.

The driver's education students have a feeling of accomplishment after taking their weekly hour's drive.

Process Of Creation

Art has been a way to express what you felt. People used art for enjoyment and they used it for profit. Artists could sit back, grab a pencil and piece of paper and draw or paint their dream. One could also paint pictures for billboard signs, rock albums, or murals on vans.

Art dealt with the world of graphics and two and three dimensional projects. There was the standard drawing and painting in which you needed to take design as a preparation course. Then advanced courses such as sculpture, print making and art history were offered to those who wanted to further their knowledge of art.

One of the biggest shows this part year was the Scholastic Art Show. Everyone who had an "A" average had a chance to enter their projects. This past year MHS had two national gold key winners, the highest honor bestowed. The students were Karen Lairamore and David Alexander. David also won a medallion for his drawing which advanced to the national level and was displayed in Washington, D.C.

Languages Speak For Themselves

"Hola!" "Bonjour!" "Thg!" This was only an introduction to the words and phrases students learned in foreign language courses this past year. Learning a new language, however, was only part of what these courses were all about. Hopefully, students learned self-respect which in turn allowed them to respect others. In Mr. Badry's classes students played games such as "Bengio," "Simion dit," and sang French songs to help them becore more fluent in their new tongue and help them to get to know one another.

A new French teacher was added to the MHS staff — Mrs. Fink. She said students should be able to hold a short conversation in French and be able to introduce themselves and tell about themselves.

Mrs. Johnston, who taught Latin and Spanish, wanted others to share her love of the languages. Her real joy was Latin because it was one of the first languages spoken in the world and needs preserving. Because of its difficulty, however, not many sections were offered.

Discovering New Depths

The widest variety of course offerings was found within the science department this past year. Topics ranged from living things to the concepts of chemicals. Earth science incorporated earth motions, location and physical composition into one. Biology I spotted different aspects such as: the material of life, life processes, genetics, ecology, the human body, and medicine. On the other hand, chemistry topics included the nature of chemical reactions, the language of chemistry, and recently developed applications. Lastly, physical science and physics aimed students to plan and test a theory, take measurements, and tabulate results.

"Science affects every person's life. There is no way to go through life without being affected by all kinds of science. We are advancing so rapidly in some fields of science that people are confused about the purpose of some advancement. We must be careful to use it for the betterment of mankind," concluded Mrs. Ernst, science teacher.

World Floor Plan Studied

Why has the Suez Canal been a source of rivalry among nations? . . . What will the twentieth century be like based on past behaviors? . . . How do democracies work? . . .

The Social Studies Department had the answers to these questions and more by offering seven major courses for interested students this past year. These included U.S. history, world history, and government. U.S. history covered colonial, revolutionary, and expansionist America. World history discussed man's development from the beginning of time to the present. Government courses covered all aspects of living under a democracy.

The concept of believing in one's country is developed through U.S. history. Because this concept is so important, this course was required for graduation. Classes involved lectures, textbook questions, and class discussions. Mr. Smith and Mr. Johnson agreed that what they wanted their students to learn was to have an open mind, form an opinion and back it up with facts and research.

Amazed With Puzzledness

There was a wide variation of courses in the field of mathematics open to students this past year. Some classes were old and some were new to our school. Some old classes were general math, algebra, geometry, and many more. A couple of new classes were Algebra IA, an in-depth study for college bound students; and pre-algebra, a review of the basics.

Although computer math was an old class, there was something new about it this past year — fourteen new Commodore 64's. The most impressive fact concerning this was that these new computers were housed in a real computer room, not just another classroom. With Mr. Shroer's design, the room was shaped like a "U" so one could see all the screens that were being used.

More computers enabled more students to learn computer basics, something all young people will have to face in the near future. With the additional room, seventy more students were able to enroll than the previous year.

There were different English classes available to the freshmen this past year. One of these was English 1A, a composition course designated for the college prepatory student. Another course was English 1G, designated for the student who was on the average high school level and did not plan to attend college. The third and final course was designated for students whose achievement in the use of vocabulary was very limited.

There were six English courses available to sophomores. Some of these were English 3A, English 3B, and English 4A. English 3A was a grammar and composition course where students were assigned paragraphs of description, narration, expostion, and argumentation. English 3B stressed very basic levels of language. English 4A was an American Literature course in which students did additional reading from a recommended list of fiction, nonfiction, and biography.

If you were a junior or a senior and were looking for excitement in the English department, you might have tried drama, speech, television productions, or debate. Drama was a basic acting course designed to help the students develop their talents and interests in acting. Speech was a course which placed strong emphasis on efforts to develop thinking, speaking, and listening skills. Television Productions was a course that helped the students to create, write, and produce types of television programs and commercials. Debate was a course which gave the students an opportunity to debate within the classroom, and eventually against teams from other schools.

English chairman, Mrs. Favorite stated, "I am pleased with how hard the students are working and that they realize how beneficial their efforts will be to them in the future."

When asked if she enjoyed her senior English class, Christl Donnelly stated, "Yes, I've learned a lot from The Lively Art of Writing; it's helped me a lot with the newspaper."

Larger Band Advantageous

With the arrival of the freshmen the band increased its numbers to 140 players. That number was too many to have in one concert band, even though this size is desirable for marching band. In addition, the playing level of each band member in grades nine through twelve differed greatly. For these reasons the band was split up into symphonic band, which is the advanced level, and the concert band which is the beginning level.

Som of the popular songs that were played at assemblies included "Billie Jean" by Michael Jackson, "Eye of the Tiger" by Survivor and the theme from "The Muppet Show".

The band practiced from seven to fourteen hours for each show. The number of hours depended on the amount of time available between shows. The preparation that went into the show included learning the music, learning to drill and then combining it all together.

Some of the activities the band participated in during the course of the year included The Memorial Day Parade, the South Bend Band-Rama and the Winter and May Concerts. They also had a cheese and sausage sale in which they sold $12,000 worth of goods. This money went to the new uniforms needed for the larger band.

Pom-pon - Flag Corps Entertains

Hard work and determination from all the girls on the Pom-pon. Flag Corps made the year a successful one. The squad was increased to twenty-four instead of the original sixteen. The girls were chosen for their dancing ability, coordination in general, and appearance. The girls traveled to Syracuse, Indiana for one week to Smith-Walbridge Camp. The squad won several awards. The intermediate group received an award for being the most outstanding group while the beginning group received the award for the most improved group. During the fall and winter months they worked hard choreographing the routines that were to be performed during halftime at both football and basketball games. Other activities were fund raisers, the Banderama, and a performance at the ACC for basketball sectionals.

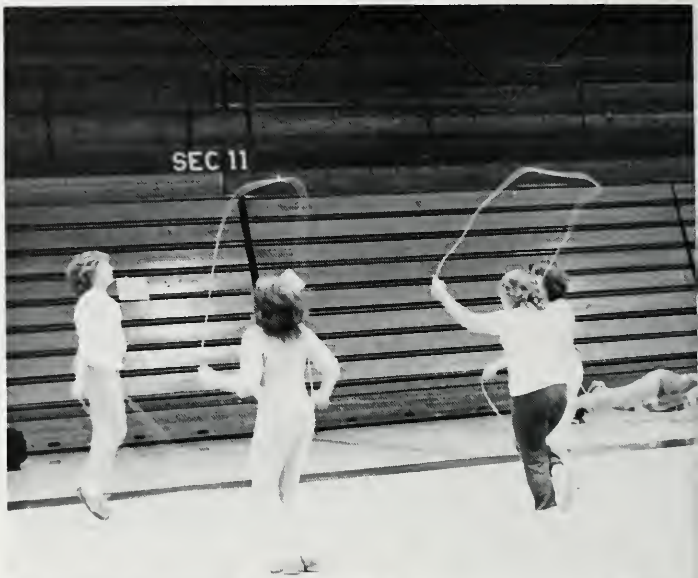
Human Anatomy

Health was a very important requirement for graduation. Among many things, health taught the student to know all aspects of his physical structure and how to properly care for himself. It also helped the student to make important decisions that greatly affected his life, his future family, and those around him.

Many things were said about health by our teachers at MHS. "Mental health goes hand in hand with physical and social health," stated Mr. May. Mr. Ross was quoted as saying, "You have one chance to live, with one body; take care of your body, and it will take care of you."

In summary, health is the study of human anatomy which briefly describes different parts of the human body, both internal and external. It also gives information on various diseases and infections which may later help students in their life.

After much practice, two health students finished their bandaging with much satisfaction.



Physical Fitness

Physical education offered a wide variety of activities to students, such as frisbee golf, volleyball, dance, jogging and swimming. These activities gave the students an opportunity to become physically fit while having fun and while learning activities they could pursue long into old age. The benefit from this course was not only physical but mental as well. "Kids have come in with a negative attitude and left with a positive one," commented Mrs. Benko.

Physical fitness tests are given to show students how well they have improved. Some items they were tested on were jogging, running, situps, and pushups.

The students who took gym found that it helped them to stay alert during the day and relieve stress. Mrs. Collins firmly stated, "A healthy body makes a healthy mind."

Jerry Mink strains to complete his chin-up quantum for his physical fitness test.

After a hard day at school, the class enjoys jumping rope to relieve their stress.

A couple of physical education students practice thei shooting for an exhilatating game of basketball.

Mike Peters and Tony Reimer perform a duet.

Mike Rogers, Sean Gutierrez, and David Derrickson dance to a popular tune at the talent show.

David Doll sings the lead while the band plays.

The Swing Choir performs several dances.

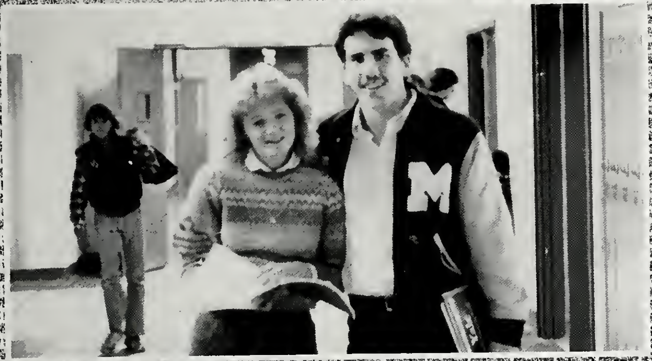
A comedian act performed by two freshmen proved successful.

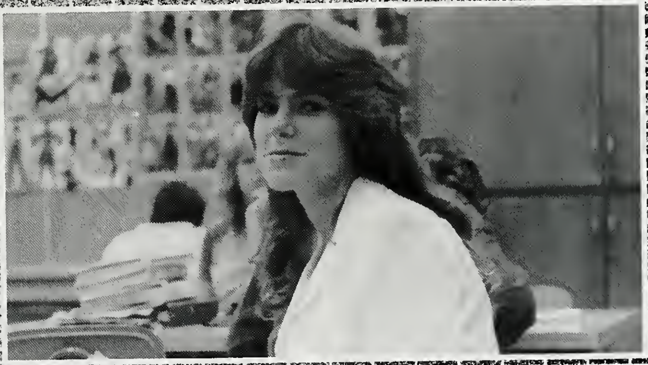
One of the people who mystified all the students who attended the Halloween Dance, has a great time.

Togas and army fatigues were very popular choices for costumes.

Because of the ridicule given to a table of seniors for their table manners, the boys go all out for lunch.

SENIORS





Seniors Build Toward New Lives

When this year's Seniors walked into the building last fall, they were almost as confused as the new sophomores and freshmen who were entering the building for the first time. Not only had many of the class rooms been moved to new sections of the building, but also, many of the old room numbers had been changed. Furthermore, the Seniors also had to dodge workmen, ladders, boxes, underclassmen and other obstacles that cluttered the hallways.

The Seniors of the Class of '84 participated in many of the activities that were traditional for Seniors, including the annual Grandparents' Day. Many Seniors also participated in sports. And, of course, those in Senior English struggled with the dreaded research papers. The only annual event that the 1984 Seniors missed out on was the Homecoming float.

The Seniors had a lot of things on their minds. This included homework, sports, jobs, and dates. They not only had present worries, but future ones as well. The Seniors tried to sort out their goals for after graduation. They had many choices and decisions to make. The options included work, college, travel, and marriage.

1983

Tam,

To a true best friend. You always find time to put up w/my problems. We've had a lot of fun times in the past, but I bet the best are yet to come. Camp wouldn't have been the same w/o you. I don't think we could have been any closer even if we were sisters. You watch out for me and keep my mind working. We don't see each other that much anymore, but I know that you're always there when I needya, + ya know I'm here for you. This summer should be alot of fun. We're finally Seniors Can ya believe it! After all these years. Tam, there is no one I would have rather grown up w/. You taught me alot and I'll never forget you.

We hade so many memories. When we were little we were always together. We have changed alot thru the years, but because we've been there to help each other grow, it's always been for the best. You have a special place in my heart only a sister could have and I know that no matter what the future holds we will always keep in touch. In about ten years we'll have husbands + about 3 kids each and we'll be looking forward to cardgames on Friday nights ~~as~~ the high point of the week. I wish the best in everything you do and you know I'll always be there to help you through it. Here comes the Summer!

Love ya sis!

Love
Rolee "85"

Tami,
To a really sweet girl and a real good friend. I'm glad that we have become better friends this year cause I really enjoyed talking to you, and even beating you up. Ha. Ha. I hope you have a lot of fun this summer and I hope I see you at some parties. Just think, next year we will be the bad-ass Senior and we will rule the school.
I wish you the best of luck, and hope to see you over the summer. Keep in touch.
Love ya,
Fred

Tami!
a really nice girl who I got to know in US. I really enjoyed your birthday party though it ended up a mess. Remember the fun time we had picking up the rabbit in T.V. production.
I hope the best luck for you in the future.

Tammy-
to a real nice girl
We have to party together over the summer! Stay Cool next year because its our last one!
Love, Chris
85'

Tami,
To a real nice and good looking girl. We had some great times this year. like going to St. Joe.
Well, I'm sorry about your party. I hope your still not mad at me. Maybe this summer we can all party together. Well your great friend and keep in touch
this summer.
Love always,
Guy

Tami,
to a really nice and sweet girl that I've known for a long time. Im really glad I became friends with you over the last years Don't forget me over the summer. Maybe we could get together some time. Im sure I'll see you around this summer. Good luck next year as a big, bad senior. Only one year to go, hope its the best for you.
Friends always
Dave Peli

Im going to give you my phone number so you can call me over the summer.
Maybe we can go to the beach or someplace and this time let me know were your going for sure!!!
Ok, its 259-8886. Use it. Don't be a stranger. You'll ~~hope~~ to "OPPS" have some good parties this summer so I can go to them of coorse. Well Tami, what more can I say? I wish you all the love and luck in the world. You'll need it for next year.
Love, we
"85"

Tammi-
To a nice girl who I just met this year. And I only had in Spencer's room. I wish I had you in other classes. It would be great. Next year you can have ~~that~~ cou. 1st hour so I can ask you what to do. ha-ha. Don't party to much over the summer. Good Luck in all you do.

Tami,
You're a really sweet girl. May all your dreams come true in life. I wish you the best of luck. Enjoy your summer but stay out of trouble. Take care.

Friends
Karen G.

Tami,
I'm glad to have met you this year. You're brave to put up with Al Smith all semester! We both take a lot of ridicule in that class! Good luck in your future, I'm sure you'll be a success!

"85" Lisa

Tami,
Wow, next year we are going to be seniors! How time flies! I'm really glad we are friends, and even though at times, Basketball was a real drag. I'm glad we were in it together!! Lets hope we will be in it next year too. You are super sweet & always so friendly to me. I'm so glad we're friends. Have a wonderful summer.

Love, Betsy
KEEP IN TOUCH!!

ami,
To one of the many people I met this year. I hope our friendship will go on forever. Good luck with school & everything. See ya next year.

Tami,
To a really nice person I just met this year during softball. Stay with softball and you'll go far cause your really good at 2nd base. Good luck with [redacted]

[redacted]

Jami,
To the one gal I believe I've known forever! Remember all the fun and growing pains we've gone through togther. Let's really make it cool next year as kick ass SENIORS! See ya around and good luck to ya always! Love,
Chel

Tami,
To a real funny and crazy girl. I'm glad to know you because your a real nice girl. Good luck with the men and in everything else you do. Have a real fun summer!
Friends Always

"TAmi" ☺
To a really good looking girl I wish we could of worked things out. But we still could do something later - who knows. I really do still like you. You have alot of stuff going your way. I hope you get ~~that~~ opps what you want ~~of~~ sorry out of life. [illegible]

Write me Back!

Love forever,
(Charlie)

P.S. I hope you find your special person Because you deserve The Best of any guy! (If I Don't see you over the summer I'll be mad at you! (HAHA

Tomi,

That is your name aint it? No kidding well we've been through alot and its been a long and confusing last couple of years.
Now that its over its a new beginning. I don't know if I should talk about the long past or upcoming great future. Well I know its gonna be great I mean us being seniors and all. We've been through all the hard times now its smooth sailing ahead. I guess you can be so lucky to be my partner during B-ball if its O.K. with you. Or your parents. I can remember last time it took me this long to sign your yearbook it was when you were one of those little freshman at Young. You stud, Yes! Well hope I get to See ya this summer maybe I can give you a few tips on softball, ha! Well see ya next year. Good Luck with "that special person" HA! HA!

friends always

Toni,
This is your name aint it ha! ha! Well we have had a lot of great times in basketball + outside in the boat at your sister's house! I will never forget all the great times. I'm glad our friendship got closer during basket-ball. I hope we are even better friends next year as big bad ass seniors. Try & stay out of trouble best of luck always

Tami,

Well what can I say? We've had some really great times & a whole lot more to come! This last year has gone by so fast, I hope next year will slow down a lil. You're a very special kind of person. You're always thinking of "the other guy" and you give more than you know. I'm glad that we've become so close (Bestest Buds). You've helped me through some pretty rough times & I'll always be grateful! I'm looking forward to a "KICK" summer & even better times next year (We're gonna be big bad seniors! Yee Ha!) Tam, you've got a lot going for you & I know that you'll make that "someone special" very happy! So many times you've made me laugh when I'd felt like crying and I've never known any one like that. Thanks again. Well, I don't want to get to sentimental, so I better end it here. Good luck in everything, always!

Love
Annitta ☺

Look-Out Summer, here We come!!

Tami,
To a goodfriend
We haven't been as close as we were in the past. I hope to share that closeness again soon. Goodluck with your life.
Love Tanya

Tami,
To a good friend + a real sweet person.
Have a great,
summer + stay out of troube.
Your a super second baseperson
Stay that way
Love + Luck

Time so ha to say all the things I want to say but I'll give it a try
You know how much you mean to me. I'll forget all of the misunderstandings and bad times because the good times are better in memories I'm really glad I met you and never matter what anyone said I really hated you because of Rick. I know that I [illegible] I know it'll take some time but remember all the SUPER times had. I want to thank you for being so helpful with my problems. God knows there was plenty! Remember [illegible] you had [illegible] first party to Missy birthday [illegible] when we first got [illegible] another [illegible] the time that [illegible] and I were trying to wake [illegible] brother of Annette were standing on the [illegible] your [illegible] looking the window. Boy I thought we were dead. Its times like those make me want to stay here; But life will go on! You better keep your chin up and stay out of trouble. I'll first have to come back and kick your little, Good luck always in so that you do! Keep in touch!

Love ya lots

Gina

Dear

[illegible]

Tammi - Well what else can I state strangers - my but when we first met [illegible] to know each other
I know you mean a lot to me.
considered + help you [illegible] couldn't have been true friend. [illegible] out and be a close changed [illegible] will have been through a lot!
come out said in your letter but we always friendship being friends. That's a special kind & Matter how far I [illegible] because of space. Doesn't matter no We will [illegible] each other and keep in touch because we cherish our friendship. It has strengthen the the years [illegible] believe it or not, because [illegible] all the high time - No one will ever understand Another - It isn't meant to be plus what in those to discover about a person then.
Tammi please stay out of trouble
+ take care - Your are special!
[illegible] up always.
Love you,
Sharon
[illegible]

remember when you were the [illegible]

Please never forget me
